

Preferred Builders

Loraloma is pleased to recommend our Preferred Builders. These builders are some of Austin's finest and Loraloma is proud to partner with them. We are happy to introduce you to the builders for Custom and Developer Products homes.

In the tapestry of Austin's architectural landscape, Matt Sitra Custom Homes has led the way as a beacon of innovation and virtuosity since 2000. With lifelong passion, artistic finesse, and an unwavering dedication to surpassing expectations, Matt Sitra and his team forge residences that redefine what it means to come home—to find solace, inspiration, and a sanctuary that embraces the spirit of those who dwell within.

Cedar & Oak is a design-build firm that is committed to building timeless homes in Central Texas. They serve as guides in the remarkably difficult adventure of building a home. Having one point of communication when dealing with city permitting or the intricacies of engineering or the details and artfulness of design and furnishings is what makes us unique. Guiding clients through the design-build process, ensuring that the "Cedar & Oak" standard is met in all areas, every time.

“Cedar & Oak is excited to build custom homes in Loraloma because this community balances natural beauty with modern living. Our goal is to create timeless spaces where family and friends feel at home, and Loraloma provides the ideal backdrop to bring that vision to life. We value the relationships we create with our clients and work hard to provide a seamless design, build, and furnishing process, to ensure that every residence reflects the unique story and needs of the families who will live there.”
